INTELLIGENCE BRIEFING Meet Bob. Bob likes women. He would eventually like to have an awesome relationship with a gor- geous, intelligent, mature, and caring woman. He sees women every day that he would like to date, but does nothing about it. He might stand near them, say “Hi,” or com- pliment them on occasion, but noth- ing ever happens for him. When he went on dates in the past, he tried everything he read about in the dating books and men’s magazine columns: buying flowers, gifts, dinners, lots of compliments, ask- ing questions about her all night long to keep the conversation go- ing. He tried to show them how suc- cessful and cool he is by talking about his life, his job, and his desires. Women walk all over him, |

That’s why women buy romance novels, and men buy porn. When a woman gets approached five times a day for so many years, there’s an automatic “bitch” reac- tion that she puts up to deal with guys. Can you imagine if she dated every single guy who approached her? She would be pretty busy. What will you do to show her you’re dif- ferent? What makes you the excep- tion? When you use the Passport, she : will immediately realize she’s dealing with a man on a whole dif- ferent level than anyone she’s ever encountered. You will be able to immediately establish attraction; build lust, and make her want to be with you. Think it can’t be done? Think again. Anyone can do it me long as they are committed to the change. THE PASSPORT To master women and dating, you need to commit to spending some rhyme and effort on making yourself better. Use the transformation process; it has worked for many, many men, and it can work for you. The failures, successes, and tri- umphs of over a hundred men for six years are in these pages. This book was designed and written to be the end-all of seduction, dating, and relationship books. You won't ever need anything else. Let's start with a few very simple explanations of who women really are. FEMALE PSYCHOLOGY (DEBUNKED) Bverytiang Mom » told vou is wrong..though I'm sure she meant well. Most women don't even know what I'm about to tell you. Women have the ability to feel other's emotions, read body lan- Gauge like an FBI interrogator, and keep a complete sense of awareness that would make most men green with envy. A woman can predict what their mate will say sometimes be- fore their mate even begins to think about saying it. Even female infants can read facial expressions and hear emotions in their parents' voices better than male infants. The female brain is incredibly more

.. THE PASSPORT OE Br n e eo e- traits keep getting rejected, dumped, and walked on by women? Simple; most women don't fully un- derstand what makes their own at- traction and emotional doors open up. They will respond to something completely different than what they say that they like. What makes the same woman who says she wants a nice, funny, and loving guy dump that same guy for a jerk who doesn't treat her well at all? She doesn't really know ei- ther. She simply responded to some- thing that made her feel good. It's not her fault. It's nature and bi- ology at work. Women respond emo- tionally and sexually to social status and leadership. These quali- ties together create a high-octane mixture of attraction and arousal hormones. Let me show you why.

About a bajillion years ago, if a woman mated with the leader of any given society, her chances of survival and the survival of her offspring were drastically im- proved. Just because we drink three-dollar bottled water, drive SUVs, have wireless MP3 players and text messaging does not make us im- mune .toO.bLoLogy.. Mating with the group leader or the alpha male made Abpoosible':. for. Her. and. her off- spring to survive, be well fed, and for them to live longer by way of

CHASE HUGHES protection. It was not ever some- thing they had to think about; it was programmed through thousands of years of evolution that predates our species. Any animal that mates with their pack leader has a better enhance of being protected and hav- ing their offspring better provided for. Wolves, for instance, will only allow the pack leader to mate with the females of the group, thereby ensuring the genetic qual- ity of future generations to come. Wolves did not sit down at a table and decide this; it is just how na- rure works. The females will always try to mate with the males who are leaders of their group. If they don't, they could face death, star- vation, and the sacrifice of their offspring. In high school, the popular guys and the football players were al- ways the ones dating all of the hot girls, weren't they? Most of them, I'm sure, didn't even have all the looks and money. This is called status response: a woman responding sexually or emotionally to à guy with high status. Rock stars celebrities have the same effect of status response. Social status is 4 bíological indicator of leadership, a primal attraction drive in women . The same principle is applied when the popular kid in school would say 10

THE PASSPORT something and everyone would laugh, even if it was not funny at all. When you buy a beer for a woman, give her flowers, gifts, and lots of compliments, and call her all the time, you are putting her in the lead, forcing her to take a dominant role, the man's role in the relationship. Letting her know ehe has more status than vou do. This is bad, cowboy. Bad: Althougl women will take the lead if they have to in a relationship, very few are able to feel a gut level at- traction to their mate if they are in charge of the relationship. In any sexually charged relationship, podoarity-. müsst exist to Create pale ance and attraction, a masculine and a feminine; a male and a female must have roles. Women will ignore their husbands if a celebrity comes over and starts talking to them. There is a gravitational pull of women toward status. Even a husband of ten years will be ignored if his wife feels like the celebrity in front of her has higher status than her husband does. A girl's sexual desires will always gravitate toward a greater being that possesses leadership, dominance, social status, charisma, humor, and confidence. They will always point, like a compass, to- ward status and leadership. 11

CHASE HUGHES i When people say, "Women jerks," what does that mean? when a woman meets a man who dig lays very solid, unshakeable eau fidence, dominance, and rude beha, sor, she may still feel attraction because these qualities can be a. rributed tO leadership and high. status behavior. When a girl is with her friends, she will behave differently than if she had anonymity. THE PASSPORT women, you need to be totally com- fortable with the idea of not needing women in your life. You need to make sure that all neediness and jealousy are kept in check. If your life is enjoyable, then you are enjoyable to be around. When you have the belief that all in your life is well and nothing could be better, anyone who does anything with you is but a guest. They make a guest appearance on the only show that matters..yours. The guys who don’t know how to enjoy their life and still be responsible are a bore to be around. No one is going to have fun when someone is too boring or depressed to be interesting. This is a huge turn-off to women, and you must banish it from your life. When you look depressed, sad, or just plain - pissed ^ off about something, people will avoid you, especially women. Women want to latch on to someone’s already good mood because they know that their emotions are unpredictable and that aman who is always in a good mood will be able to stabilize them. IHE PASSPORT AMGS are typically unavailable when it comes to women. Their time is scarce because they are too busy tak- ing care of themselves and spending time with friends. These needs are food, water, digestion, breathing, and shelter. While each level has very broad definitions of what needs are to be met, I will concentrate on the needs on the hi- erarchy pertaining to seduction interaction, and attraction. The next level up is safety. Just like the previous level, the needs are applicable to all ani- mals. Safety indicates the need to feel protection from threats, free- dom to be comfortable, and espe- cially emotional safety. When you walk up to a group in a bar, the girls are pretty sure that a bomb will not go off, no one will attack them, and they are free to relax. Right now, put your hand on your chest and say “ninety- nine.” You can make a good vibration without making your voice too deep. Keep it the same tone you normally use, but increase that vibration you feel in your chest. When you feel the yis bration the strongest, this is your real voice. Study great comedians like Dane Cook, Jerry Seinfeld, and George Carlin. Story-Telling Guide: Using your own Stories from your life is great because you can use them without having to rehearse any- thing and it will automatically look natural. When you tell stories from your life, make sure you include six basic principles in them. 1. Humor (the most important element) 2. Leadership «(showing that others look to you) 2 vag . descriptions. (generous. use of adjectives and sensory words) 4. Good body language (this will make or break your story) 5. Use sound effects, cool demonstra- tive body language, and gestures. Examples: Do you believe in ghosts? Get this; my phone rings at like Cam tied morning and I usually Cee Epis ite py but I did. My friend was completely frantic. He Says, “Dude, get over here NOW!” in like. “Calm downy. bro”. And. he Said, “Dude, I just saw a ghost walk 63

CHASE HUGHES - — “ati - - —M aa ow ts across my bedroom. I’m sellin this house tomorrow. I can’t o back inside. I need you here now.” So I put on my flip-flops and go over. I get to his houge and he’s standing in his driveway behind the gate in his pajamas with a baseball bat over his shoulder and his eyes are huge. He wants me to search his house, but I make him come with me to show him there is nothing there. He grabs on to the back of my shirt and walks behind me through the whole house. I get pretty freakin’ scared, but we don’t find any- thing. He’s still selling ma house, though, and he let me keep the baseball bat, but I think he’s crazy. Accidental Sex Party My friend and I were at this stupid VIP party for the release of his book last week and we got invited to this “house party.” (Make the quotations gesture.) We took these directions to this house. It was nice and everyone seemed cool, but like thirty min- utes into the party, we saw like three couples making out in the living room, so we just went oe the patio. Everyone started get” ting undressed. All of thes? gross, fat people started taking 64

I’m freaked out and I’m thinking they’re going to chase us down or something. Just as we get outside, my friend runs back in, smacks this dude on the ass, and runs back outside to get into the car. I felt so dirty just thinking about what was going on after we left. It was disgusting. Watermelon Seeds My friend Dan is a huge hypo- chondriac. We all brought water- melon to this volleyball party the other day and he runs over to me completely freaked out and tells me he swallowed a seed instead of Spitting it out. I ‘try to tell hin he’s an idiot, but he starts trying to make himself puke right in front of my co-workers and friends. Now everyone is staring at him and then looking back at me. (Body language demo) So I yelled out that he had food poisoning to cover up his com- plete stupidity. As soon as I did, people started looking at their food and walking over to ask me what he ate. I had to make up this huge story because our friend is an mick, and I think I Jost a few party invites over that shit. 65

We thought it sounded fun and we took a cab to this address on the brochure. When we got there, everything looked really respectable and clean. . The audience was only like a dozen peo- ple or so, and the”enow”. went on pretty normal; some kangaroos hopped around and did a trick, some wallabies came out and did a silly etie dance, but as they neared the end of the show, we smashed rough a wall into the twilight Zone. I swear to god. The host of the show looked like the crocodile hunter and talked exactly like him. When the end of the show was ap- proaching, he introduced this lit- tle koala bear. (Do the accent and body language here; not to enter- tain them, but because you are SO 67

Anyway, everyone got a little uncomfortable, but we were frozen in place. She started rubbing and massaging his penis, and his little fuzzy koala head started tilting back in sheer pleasure. His ttle eyes closed and he had koala juice squirt out. Everyone in the audi- ence was completely shocked. One quay’ got up and left; and my friend Nick was watching and reaching into his bag for his camera at the same time. By the time he got pictures, we were both completely hysterical with laughter. My face hubs vss freakin’ bad from laughing. Mom and Dad My friend and I were in his cat the. other day ana he has onci those Bluetooth things that goes d his speakers. THE PASSPORT ————————AÁMÀL051—— 5 ainiai will be tempted to pause and let her react to them. Don’t. Just use them and continue with another story. You are deliberately creat- ing a social void in the interac- tion. One thing about voids is that we all want to fill them. When you create a gap in the interest level, a woman will naturally want to fill the void. When you tell a girl she’s not your type, she feels the need to prove otherwise. A void in attraction is more powerful than any tool in this kit. You need to maintain the atten- tion of the whole group, here. Be loud and speak without hesitation. When you first start a conversa- tion, you must openly show disin- terest, an AMG quality. One way to do this is to make her think you are not into her at all. If you are confident and strong, she will be- gin to wonder why. Eventually she will want to prove you wrong. All of this is done in good fun. They are meant to do two things: throw her off guard and make her chase you. You’re saying something you like about her, but something un- usual that might make her a little self-conscious. It's just a piece of igkter, right? But then, wies you look closer, you realize it's a hundred-dollar bill. As it blows away from you, an instinct to chase it and pick Gt up comes over you. It's the same principle with women. When you walk up to a group, you are just another guy. But once you start demonstrating awesome body language and they realize you are having a better time and have higher status than they do, the at- tension shifts. You become valu- able. They become interested. Don't overuse these. A couple wilt do the job. Pick your favorite ones, find out which ones work for you, and keep them in your pocket. When you deliver these, they should just be a part of the conversation initially. Simply say it and keep talking. In this step, you will begin th? touch progression.
